

lucitelux® L

Standard Series

LuciteLux® continuous acrylic sheet has a high molecular weight and is available in a variety of clears and colors. Fabricators often prefer high molecular weight acrylic sheet because of its outstanding fabrication properties, uniform thickness and superior craze resistance. LuciteLux® acrylic combines all of the outstanding performance characteristics you'd expect with excellent aesthetics and gives designers and fabricators the ultimate flexibility.

LuciteLux® continuous acrylic sheet is used where safety, optical clarity, and long-term retention of properties are important.
